

Institute for Daisaku Ikeda Studies in Education

Join Us for the Official Opening and Inaugural Lecture of DePaul University's Institute for Daisaku Ikeda Studies

LIVING as LEARNING:

Dewey, Makiguchi and Ikeda in the 21st Century

Internationally renowned Dewey scholars Jim Garrison and Larry Hickman will speak about the 21st century relevance of American philosopher John Dewey and Japanese educators Tsunesaburo Makiguchi and Daisaku Ikeda. Garrison and Hickman's published dialogue with Ikeda, Living as Learning (2014), highlights the urgency of revisiting these thinkers' shared philosophies and practices of education for growth, happiness, and contributive, fully human living.

WEDNESDAY

January 14th, 2015

5:30 PM - 7:30 PM

Cortelyou Commons Main Hall

2324 N. Fremont St.

(half block east of Fullerton "L" stop)

FREE and open to the public / 2 CPDUs

For Questions and RSVP: IkedaInstitute@depaul.edu

Larry Hickman is director of the Center for Dewey Studies and professor of philosophy at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, and Past President of the John Dewey Society.

Jim Garrison is professor of philosophy of education at Virginia Tech University and Past President of the Philosophy of Education Society and the John Dewey Society.

